

Pajama Havdalah

A Gannon Gil musical Shabbat experience
at the JCC-GW with Lisa Baydush
December 14, 2013

Havdalah

Havdalah begins when three stars appear in the evening sky. The word Havdalah means to differentiate, to distinguish. The Havdalah ceremony marks the separation between the Sabbath day of rest, and the rest of the week. With Havdalah, we say goodbye to Shabbat, but we hope that the sweetness and holiness of the day will remain with us during the coming week.

Havdalah Hug

Chorus:

Havdalah hug (hug, hug) (3x)

Havdalah hug really makes me feel loved! (2x)

We're here with all our friends and our family
My favorite stuffed animal is sitting here with me
We're glad to be together on this Havdalah night
So put your arms around a friend,
and give a hug, squeeze tight! (chorus)

Havdalah is When We Say Goodbye to Shabbat

by Lisa Baydush

Chorus:

Shalom Shabbat, Shalo-o-om Shabbat

Shalom Shabbat, Shalo-o-om Shabbat

Havdalah is when we say goodbye to Shabbat,
Havdalah is when we say goodbye to Shabbat. (chorus)

Havdalah is when we see the braided candle glow...
Havdalah is when we smell the spices oh so sweet...
Havdalah is when we see three stars in the sky...
